

The present research was financially supported by the Institute of Botany at the Jagiellonian University, grant no K/ZDS/007340 and supported by European Development Fund Regional as part of the Intelligent Development 2014-2020 Program. Project entitled "Triffid product future of the Metalworking Cluster (KKK). White Hill synergy of cooperation in the R & D area ", implemented as part of the National Center for Research and Development (NCBR) competition: Sub-measure 1.1.1 Industrial research and development carried out by enterprises.

The presented results of the work were financed from project "Research and Development Center - White Hill Mission - Podlasie Strategy of R & D & I Success". The project is co-financed from the European Union funds from the European Regional Development Fund

